

...had it not been for that would I have been here this morning

at home after a night's rain as the first sunlight touches the drops at the tips of the leaves I owe you the sight of morning...

from "To the Surgeon Kevin Lin"

Save the Date: October 19, 2005

Pulitzer Prize-winning Poet

William S. Merwin Reads His Own Work

Followed by Carolee Campbell's

Book-art Exhibit

On October 19, 2005, from 6:30 – 8 p.m., The Center for Medical Humanities & Ethics will host Pulitzer Prize-winning poet W.S. Merwin for the 2005 Ewing Halsell Distinguished Lecture at the UT Health Science Center at San Antonio.

Following this, Carolee Campbell's Ninja Press book-art exhibit will feature the work of Merwin and other poets. Proceeds from a limited number of signed broadsides available for purchase will benefit The Center for Medical Humanities & Ethics.

"It's an extraordinary opportunity for us to hear one of the most important voices in literature. Merwin is, in my mind, without doubt, the greatest living poet of our time."

*– Abraham Verghese, MD, Director
The Center for Medical Humanities & Ethics*

